Dear Brothers and Sisters,

We are proud to announce the certified results of the 2025 Election of Officers. Thanks to your trust, your voices, and your belief in the direction of this union, the Solidarity Team has been re-elected. As your Executive Secretary-Treasurer and on behalf of your President, David Caraballoso, and your Vice President, Adam Harkin, it is an honor to continue leading this great organization.

This win isn't about titles. It's about the spirit of the New York City carpenter. It's about the men and women who lace up their boots before sunrise, who build this city with their hands, and who know that nothing worth having comes without hard work and determination.

Your vote for the Solidarity Team carries tremendous weight, and we are committed to honoring the trust you placed in us. Because of your support, we will:

- Secure more hours and more jobs for our members
- Protect pensions so every carpenter can retire with dignity
- Keep New York City a union town, where our craft, our wages, and our standards are respected and protected

This election wasn't just a choice; it was a statement. It told every contractor, every politician, and every corner of this city that NYC Carpenters stand tall, shoulder to shoulder, and we don't back down. Work continues, and the future is ours to build stronger, safer, and union to the core. From the jobsite to the union hall, from the bridges we repair to the towers we raise, we are united by pride, by skill, and by the knowledge that there is no New York City without union carpenters.

Thank you for believing in us and in the path ahead. Let's get back to work and make history—again.

In unwavering solidarity,

Paul Capurso,
Executive Secretary-Treasurer

David Caraballoso,
President

Adam Harkin,
Vice President
